Intro and Content Warnings

Hello, hello! Before I start, I just wanna say a couple of things! This won't be too long, so I do hope you'll read it.

One, I don't normally post my work to Wattpad. I have hopes of publishing most of my writing. The reason I put this one up is because it's a Warriors fanfiction. I obviously can't publish that.

Second, grammar and spelling. I do that. I know it's a novelty for Wattpad, so I feel the need to point it out. This isn't to imply that I don't make mistakes, of course. I'm sure there's a mistake in this very chapter. Simply to say that I do try to make my writing as professional as possible.

Third, these cats are gonna be LGBTQ+ and I am too. If that's not something you're cool with, steer clear of this book and me in general.

Four, constructive criticism is always nice! Just don't write 'Ur book sucks' or something. That doesn't help me get better.

Lastly, there will be violence. I mean, this is Warriors, so I assume you know that, but just in case.
